

PERSHING DENIES LIVES SACRIFICED

Reviews Fighting on Armistice Day in Letter to Representative Fuller

WERE UNDER ORDERS FROM MARSHAL FOCH

WASHINGTON, January 10.—Charges made before a house investigating committee that lives of American soldiers were wasted in needless attacks on armistice day are denied in a letter from General Pershing made public today by Representative Fuller, Republican of Massachusetts.

General Pershing said the American forces were acting under general instructions issued by Marshal Foch to all allied commanders on November 9, 1918, and that orders for attacks were withdrawn as soon as possible after he was advised of the armistice signing. He also said statements that American troops were ordered to the attack while French divisions remained stationary were "wholly erroneous."

The letter is dated November 21, 1919, and is in reply to charges contained in a letter from Captain G. K. Livermore of Winchester, Mass., formerly operations officer of the 16th Field Artillery Brigade of the 92nd (negro) division.

The letter says: "I had no knowledge before 6 a. m., November 11, that the armistice had been signed and that firing was to cease at 11 a. m."

"The armistice, effective at 11 a. m., November 11, was not signed until 5 a. m. November 11, hence the information which Captain Livermore states he received at midnight of November 10 was only a rumor, altho that proved correct."

"For several days prior to November 11, false rumors were prevalent. You may recall that the United States and that Nov. 7, I think was made a day of celebration. All armies took steps to correct the rumors and at 8:45 p. m., November 9, the following telegram was received by me from Marshal Foch:

"The enemy, disorganized by our repeated attacks, is withdrawing along the whole front. It is important to maintain and hasten our action. I appeal to the energy and initiative of the commanders in chief and their armies to secure decisive results. All allied commanders received similar telegrams."

"Neither British or French headquarters ordered firing to cease prior to the going into effect of the armistice and in general firing by all the allies and by the enemy continued on the whole front until that hour. In places the firing died away prior to 11 a. m. and in a few places firing continued after that hour. The 92nd division astride the Moselle attacked at 7 a. m., Nov. 10 and 5 a. m., November 11, advanced a short distance, but the troops had retired to cover in the face of heavy fire when the commander of the attacking brigade received information at 7:18 a. m., that an armistice would be effective at 11 a. m. The brigade commander reports he ordered all firing stopped by 10:45 a. m., and that the firing was so stopped. The casualty records show that on November 11, the 92nd division lost 17 killed and 286 wounded, of whom 99 were gassed. The casualty records of the marines show their losses on November 11 were nine killed and 172 wounded."

"The attack of the 92nd division on the 10th of November continued at 5 a. m., on the morning of the 11th, was not a preliminary to the proposed attack of November 14th. From July 15th to the armistice, the allies attacked in accordance with a general plan. This plan contemplated attacks from just east of the Moselle to the sea. From a point just east of the Moselle, to concentrate for the attack. Thus the French troops holding the line east of the Moselle took part in the reduction of the St. Mihiel salient or the subsequent operations of the second army. On November 11th, parts of the French, British and Belgian lines as well as parts of the American line attacked and advanced. The implication that the Americans were the only troops which advanced or attacked on November 11 is wholly erroneous."

"Neither the French nor the Americans were regarded as the stage of men on November 11 at any other time. Neither on November 11, nor at any other time were American lives needlessly wasted because some of our officers were as considerate of their men as the French were nor were American lives needlessly wasted for any other cause, unless it be that we had not adequately prepared for war in time of peace."

AMERICANS ATTACKED. Rome, Friday, Jan. 9.—Two American sailors were attacked last Tuesday by five men on the road between Paludi and Spalato, says the National News agency. The sailors were taken to a hospital where one is said to have

DEFENDS ACTION AGAINST SOCIALISTS

Speaker of New York Assembly
Replies to Letter from Former Governor Charles E. Hughes.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Action of the state assembly in suspending the lives of Socialist members was to determine whether the organizations they represent advocate methods or employ tactics to bring about overthrow of the government. T. C. Sweet, speaker of the assembly, declared in a letter to Charles E. Hughes, made public tonight. It was in reply to the former governor's open letter condemning the ousting of the Socialists.

Every patriotic citizen should withhold judgment, Speaker Sweet added, until evidence respecting the Socialist party and other organizations had been presented to the judiciary committee of the assembly before which the suspended Socialists will be impartially judged as to their rights and fitness to take their seats.

Speaker Sweet declared criticism of the assembly's action "without full knowledge of the facts gives aid and comfort to those elements of our society which seek the destruction of our institutions."

He points out that a sharp line of demarcation was drawn in April, 1917, between Socialism and the Socialist party of America, declaring Socialists who placed the honor of their country above their creed, had resigned from the party.

The suspension of the five Socialist assemblymen follows the recent practice of congress. State Senator C. R. Lusk, chairman of the joint legislative committee investigating seditious activities declared in a statement tonight.

The assembly's action amounts to a challenge of the fitness to serve of the Socialists "as individuals," he said.

Charges against them were based on evidence presented before the joint legislative committee he added.

"The charge is that they as individuals, personally stand for the overthrow of the established state and national governments by force and violence," he said.

The Socialist party staged three rallies late today in the heart of the district which sent August Claessens, suspended Socialist member to the assembly. "What the outcome will be, I don't know," Claessens said. "They are signing their own death warrants. If a citizen has no right to cast a ballot, then there is no democracy. That is a state of anarchy. We the Democrats and the Republican parties are arch enemies."

"I say, 'long live the international social revolution.' Social revolution does not mean use of bombs or guns, nor does it mean a march to congress or Albany, or city hall to overthrow the government. We shall leave that for the Republicans to do."

HAYS IN SALT LAKE CITY ADDRESS

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 10.—Patriotism was the keynote of an address delivered tonight by Will Hays, Republican national chairman at a banquet in his honor. "I plead for patriotism in peace as well as in war," he said. "Let us have patriotism which moves men and women to make their country's welfare their own business and in prosaic times of peace interest themselves in the practical government of their community. Good government can be attained in no other way."

He reviewed living costs and declared there is a saturnalia of individual extravagance.

"I urge the practice of all of the strictest individual economy consistent with the proper development of present day needs and possibilities. Every possible effort by government, by group and by individual to reduce the cost of living should be made. The Republicans are against paternalism in government," he said, "and especially that form of pedagogic paternalism that has developed recently. We will not forget that in France to make certain the rights of free government that we have a republic to preserve and that we are a representative government and not a Bolshevik synecopation."

INSTITUTES SUIT TO REGAIN TIPS

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Miss Hannah Stires, for two years a check girl in restaurants here, in a suit filed in the superior court today sought to secure $25,425 from the "Chicago tipping trust." She alleged she received that amount in tips in two years, and was compelled to give it to the "trust." Three men are named defendants. "These men have acquired the checking concessions in most hotels and cafes," said Miss Stires. "They pay girls $9 to $15 a week and compel them to drop tips in a small iron bank, which is camouflaged with paper."

RESUME PNEUMATIC MAIL SERVICE

Washington, Jan. 10.—Resumption of the pneumatic mail service in New York, Brooklyn, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, and St. Louis with government purchase of the systems to be made on a valuation to be fixed by the interstate commerce commission was proposed by bills introduced today by Representative Vane, Republican, Pennsylvania.

CAR OVERTURNS, KILLED

Pueblo, Colo., Jan. 10.—A. Wundkin, 40, a cattle man of Laveta, Colo., and formerly of Battle Creek, Mich., was killed today when his automobile overturned on the highway between Colorado Springs and Pueblo.

RATIFICATION OF TREATY COMPLETED

Peace Between Allies and Germany Re-Established
Saturday Afternoon

U. S. NOW ONLY NATION AT WAR

PARIS, Jan. 10.—(By The Associated Press.)—Ratifications of the treaty of Versailles were exchanged and peace between Germany, France, Great Britain and the other allied and associated powers, except the United States, became effective at 4:16 p. m., today. There were eleven hour rumors of a further postponement but these proved groundless. Outstanding comment tonight on the ceremony is that it leaves the United States the only power actively at war with Germany not now on a peace basis. That was the note sounded by Baron Kurt von Lersner, head of the German peace delegation in a statement to The Associated Press.

"I am naturally happy that peace has finally become effective," he said. "My great regret is that the United States is the only country with which Germany is still in a state of war. I hope, however, that this situation will soon be changed."

"Execution of the treaty imposes upon Germany the heaviest sacrifices ever borne by a nation in modern times. We lost in the west and in the east territories that belonged to Prussia many centuries. We have assumed enormous economic obligations. Nevertheless, I am glad peace is at last re-established because it will give back to Germany her beloved sons still prisoners."

Asked as to the execution of the treaty, the Baron declared Germany was ready and determined to do her utmost. He continued:

"We have already, even without being obliged by the treaty, delivered a considerable quantity of products, including two and one half million tons of coal to France and I can say Germany will go to the utmost limit of possibility in fulfilling all obligations she has incurred. It will mean hard times for Germany, but with the recovery of our order for labor and production we hope to meet every emergency."

"The recovery of our economic prosperity is as much to the interest of the entente as it is to us, on account of the great economic difficulties that threaten Europe. It is obvious, speaking chiefly of France that the economic condition of Germany must be restored."

"I do not want to give up all hope," continued the Baron, "that among the allies the conviction will finally prevail that, by availing themselves strictly of rights conceded in the treaty for extradition of those accused, they may cause the greatest consequences. We pointed out two months ago to the allies the harmful consequences that might ensue if their right to demand extraditions should be executed literally. We submitted written suggestions for the solution of the delicate problem."

"The principal features for this proposition were that Germany would undertake to arrange before the supreme court of Germany all persons accused by the entente, would accept all such from the law of amnesty and would conduct the trial as public prosecutors. Germany in the meantime enacted laws to this end. This entente did not accept proposals before peace became effective but that does not preclude serious examination anew of the problem. The entente proposal for obtaining this object, however, far exceeds the demands made by Austria upon Serbia for punishment of the assassins of the archduke, plans were rejected by Serbia with the approval of the entente. After the settlement of a few details connected with the arrangement for execution of the treaty, Baron von Lersner will leave for Berlin for a rest."

Position of U. S.
Washington, Jan. 10.—Formal notice has been served on Germany by the United States in connection with the deposit at Paris today of ratifications putting into effect the treaty of Versailles, that conditions of the armistice still govern relations between the United States and Germany.

Such announcement was made tonight by the state department in a statement showing official notification of the exchange had been received. The announcement showed that the deposit of ratifications and signing of the process verbal took place in Paris at 4:16 p. m., and adds:

The moment at which the first process verbal was completed marked the moment at which a status of peace was restored between Germany on the one hand and those of the allied and associated powers which have completed the necessary formalities of the ratification of the treaty of Versailles on the other.

An idea of the mass and variety of the work of the Paris peace conference was shown in a list received here today showing 42 treaties, agreements and conventions.

Peace Established

PARIS, Jan. 10.—Peaceful relations between Germany and the greater number of the nations engaged in the great war with her are established by the action taken at Paris today. The peace treaty now goes into effect as between Germany and those powers that have finally ratified it—Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Guatemala, Panama, Peru, Poland, Siam, Czechoslovakia and Uruguay.

Great Britain was the first of the five great powers represented in the supreme council of the peace conference to take such action being followed in succession by France, Italy and Japan. The United States alone of the "big five" has not ratified the treaty. As the list shows, formal ratifications have been given by most of the smaller powers signatory to the treaty. China did not sign the document because of her objections to the Shantung provisions but proclaimed a state of peace with Germany.

The all-important ratification by Germany was given on July 9, 1919, the day following which President Wilson presented the treaty to the United States senate.

The making of the peace which now becomes effective was begun shortly after the conclusion of the armistice of November 11, 1918. The treaty of Versailles, as it has become known, was signed in the historic Versailles palace on June 28, 1919.

The treaty not only defines the terms of peace with Germany, but contains the league of nations covenant and the provision for the international labor organization. The document comprises fifteen parts with numerous annexes. It provided that as soon as it had been ratified by Germany and three of the principal allied and associated powers a process verbal of the deposit of ratifications should be drawn up from the date of which the treaty would come into force as between the powers which had ratified it. The treaty will enter into force for each other power at the date of the deposit of its ratification.

In October last, a sufficient number of powers had ratified the treaty to comply with the requirements for its effectiveness. Ratification of the treaty by Germany and the signing of the internal German war-terms by their officers and crews at Scapa Flow, however, and the failure of the Germans to live

ROBINSON HEADS COAL COMMISSION

Representative of Public Elected
President of Body to Review
Difficulties Between Operators and Miners.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Henry N. Robinson, representing the public on the coal strike settlement commission, was today elected president of that body. It was announced after an informal session. The first formal session will be held Monday to which representatives of operators and miners of the central competitive field have been invited.

The commission worked all day on plans of procedure and reviewed complaints presented by locals of the miners' union. These alleged that operators had not complied fully with the government's settlement plan, and had refused to reinstate union men or in other ways failed to maintain working conditions desired. No decision as to policy to be followed was given out.

The central scale committee of the central field operators was also in session today. It was pointed out that the operators had not yet formally accepted the government's settlement plan and had not agreed to be bound by the commission's actions and decisions, but it was also said, however, that operators had agreed to participate in the commission's procedure had been reached.

Miners' representatives including John L. Lewis, acting president of the miners' union have signified their intention to respond to the commission's call Monday.

PREVOST DEMANDS AN EXAMINATION

MT. CLEMENS, Mich., Jan. 10.—Lloyd Prevost was arrested today by police court on a charge of murdering J. Stanley Brown. He stood mute and demanded an examination which was set for January 23.

Special Prosecutor Bert Nunnely announced that the secret investigation had brought out "further important evidence."

Its nature was not disclosed beyond the statement that officers believe the movements of Brown on the night of his death have been established. Efforts to trace the writers of anonymous letters purporting to relate details of Brown's killing were unavailing today. The letter signed "R. S. and R. L." was mailed from Detroit. The writers, claiming to have been eye witnesses stated Brown was first struck in the head with a hammer then shot.

DANIELS COMMENTS ST. LOUIS MAN

Washington, Jan. 10.—Ollie L. Givens, of St. Louis, a water tender of the U. S. S. Caldwell, has been commended by Secretary Daniels for presence of mind displayed after a boiler explosion aboard the vessel on Oct. 18, last. Seven other enlisted men of the navy also have been commended for bravery.

RELATES GROWTH OF STANDARD OIL CO

John D. Rockefeller Tells of Difficulty Forming Company Fifty Years Ago

GOLDEN JUBILEE IS CELEBRATED

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—How the Standard Oil Company grew from humble beginnings until it became the world's greatest business organization, was related by its founder, John D. Rockefeller, in a letter read tonight at a dinner held in celebration of the golden jubilee of the corporation. Absence in Florida prevented Mr. Rockefeller from joining the multi-millionaires who assembled.

Mr. Rockefeller said he believed there were only two survivors of the original organizers of the Standard Oil Company of Ohio, the parent organization—his brother William, and himself. He said he had commenced his career as an oil refiner, proceeding his brother in the business four years.

"The business of oil refining," he wrote, "was very profitable in the early sixties, but in the late sixties it was overdone and the competition was ruinous, so that probably eighty and possibly ninety per cent of all engaged in it were either barely holding their own or suffering actual loss."

Many efforts were made to remedy demoralization in the industry but without success. Mr. Rockefeller continued, until the Standard Oil Company undertook to unite certain refining interests. The finding of the capital for the scheme was difficult in view of poor credit conditions in the business and Mr. Rockefeller could recall only two concerns—the Warden, Frew and Company interests of Philadelphia and the Charles Pratt Company of New York—willing to furnish cash for stock.

He said that the Standard Oil Company borrowed from its shareholders all the money they would lend and paid 10 per cent interest.

"The money raised was still insufficient, but financial backing was obtained thru sale of stock to leading capitalists and the business of other refiners was taken over by payments either in stock or cash. The ablest representatives of such concerns were enlisted in administration of the joint undertaking."

"And here I may be pardoned for saying," he wrote, "that the Standard Oil Company made a record without precedent in the history of commercial enterprises in turning to its weaker and bankrupt competitors and offering them a chance to recupe their waning fortunes without any risk on their part except the putting in of their plants, many of which were superannuated and ill-equipped to cope with the more up-to-date refiners of that time."

"I am happy that all who took stock prospered and did much better than they could have done under other circumstances. This, however, was not surprising after the trying years through which they had passed, and it must be remembered that this was a new and untried thing and that many people regarded the organization as a rope of sand. Not only was this true at its inception, but for some time efforts were made on every hand to discredit the company. Such opposition was to be expected as the methods of economic control were being put into effect."

The history of the company also was reviewed by Mr. Bedford, who declared that in many respects it was the history of petroleum through the world. He asserted that in every country where oil production has been properly organized it has been made so by emulating Standard Oil methods.

Mr. Bedford eulogized Mr. Rockefeller, Henry M. Flagler, Charles Pratt and Henry Rogers, associates in the formation and development of the Standard Oil corporation as men who had not merely built up a tremendous enterprise, but who had made great contributions to their country in philanthropy, medicine, education, and art.

Another section prohibits disposal of bags, banners or emblems intended to glorify advocacy of force against the government.

Aliens violating the act would be subject to deportation and permanent exclusion after serving imprisonment.

The bill goes to the house for consideration in connection with session legislation now being prepared by the house judiciary committee in a measure as a substitute for legislation recommended by Attorney General Palmer.

MYSTERIOUS MAN IS IDENTIFIED

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 10.—The man referred to as "Proteus X," suffering from loss of memory at Lambertville, N. J., was today identified as Dr. John L. Brand.

The identification was made by his son, Lieut. Commander Charles L. Brand, who is stationed at the Philadelphia navy yards.

Dr. Brand's home is in Worcester, Mass. He has been missing three years.

He was unable to recognize his son when the latter approached him and said "Don't you know me, father?"

LOWDEN ADDRESSES HAMILTON CLUB

Speaks Against Changing Constitution of U. S. Which Has Stood For 130 Years.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, speaking tonight at the commemoration of the Hamilton Club of the birth of Alexander Hamilton, declared "he who would now lay profane hands upon that constitution after 130 years of progress would become a traitor to his country and an enemy to mankind."

The constitution he said was framed to avoid at the same time the autocracy of the despot and the anarchy of the mob. By conferring only limited power on government, the framers "safeguarded forever the fundamental rights of even the smallest minority."

"The representative is the cornerstone of government," he said. "Upon questions of government all know how unsafe it is to act upon first impressions. The representative giving all his time to consideration of public questions has an opportunity to correct first impressions where they are wrong."

"Constitutional government is impossible unless there be daily contact," between the executive, and legislative branches, he said.

Governor W. L. Harding of Iowa said "a strong nation can be a great force for righteousness by keeping its own house in order and not meddling in the kitchen problems of other nations. Hamilton established the principle of protection. Protection has always insured the national industrial prosperity and it is an historic fact that peoples and nations make progress in government human rights, better standards of living, science, art, education, inventions, in fact all that is wholesome and worthy in periods of prosperity."

"Democratic free trade doctrines have always insured industrial depression, poverty of the working class and class hatred. The Democratic party is horrified at the prosperity of the people and the country now. It is almost intolerable to have high wages and high prices. To hold an inquisition on a Democratic party achievement."

BRYAN ADDRESSES CHICAGO DEMOCRATS

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—W. J. Bryan, advocate of "free and open" discussion where concessions may be asked and given," in the Senate in an effort to reach a compromise on the peace treaty in an address at the Iroquois Club today.

"Then if no compromise can be reached," he said, "we must acquiesce, for the present, with the Republican majority." He proposed that in that case enough Democratic votes would be withdrawn to permit Republicans a constitutional two-thirds vote by which the treaty and league of nations covenant would be ratified with reservations and allow the "people to pass judgment" at the polls.

Mr. Bryan emphatically stated that there had been no "split" in the Democratic party and that such a conclusion should not be drawn from the addresses of himself and President Wilson at the Jackson Day banquet.

"The president and I differ in method and not in purpose," he said. "The president's letter," he continued, "contains words open to construction that indicate no compromise is possible."

Mr. Bryan said his plan of compromise or the alternative of allowing the Republican majority to record its will, was "just the simple old American plan of majority rule."

DELEGATES WILL BE HELD TO STRICT RULES

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—The changes in Illinois' basic law will be made without the inspiration of tobacco if the rules promulgated by the rules and procedure committee made public today are adopted. Printed copies of the proposed rules were mailed today to all members of the convention following completion of the rules committee's report late yesterday. There will be no smoking in the halls, lobbies or galleries, says one of the rules. Another rule designed to keep members' minds on the business of the convention would prevent any delegate from reading newspapers during sessions. The convention will meet again next Wednesday at 10 a. m., when the rules committee will present its report.

ROBBERS LOCK CASHIER IN VAULT

Quincy, Ill., Jan. 10.—Two bandits held up the cashier of the Merchants' Bank at Noddy, Mo., Saturday morning at the point of a revolver and escaped in a waiting automobile with $715.

After ordered the cashier, Fred Ashley, into the vault the robbers held the door and helped themselves to the currency in sight. They overlooked a considerable amount of money in the safe. They left in the direction of Kahoka.

Mr. Ashley after being locked in the vault succeeded in freeing himself with a screw driver. Immediate steps were taken to apprehend the robbers but at midnight no trace had been found.

FIRE DAMAGES HOSPITAL

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 10.—Fire tonight badly damaged the Pathological building of the Johns Hopkins Hospital group. A number of rare specimens were removed by physicians.

BERGER AGAIN DENIED HIS SEAT

House Refuses Membership to Wisconsin Socialist by 328 to 6 Vote

WILL AGAIN SEEK RE-ELECTION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Victor Berger, Milwaukee Socialist re-elected from the fifth Wisconsin congressional district after he had been refused membership in the house "because he gave aid and comfort to the enemy," was denied his seat again today by a vote of 328 to 6. The house acted in a little more than an hour after Berger presented himself.

Chairman Dallinger of the elections committee, which held Berger ineligible the first time, presented a resolution barring Berger and reviewed the reason why he was rejected at the special session.

Representatives Mann, Republican, Illinois; Voight, Republican, Wisconsin; Harrell, Republican, Oklahoma; Guffin, Democrat, New York; Sisson, Democrat, Mississippi; and Sherwood, Democrat, Ohio, supported Berger. "This is a representative form of government," Mr. Mann said, "and this we must maintain inviolate if the people desire it. Berger was elected by the people of Wisconsin. They have a right to be represented."

Members showed little interest in news from Milwaukee that the Socialist legislative committee had voted to renominate Berger. Chairman Dallinger said Berger was ineligible to membership under provisions of the constitution.

Request for a hearing on Berger. H. Bodensadt's right to the seat denied Berger has been made before Chairman Dallinger. Bodensadt, a Republican, was defeated by Berger by 4,896 votes in the special election. The committee previously held Joseph P. Carney, Berger's opponent in the first election to be ineligible.

Will Try Again.
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 10.—The Socialist committee of the Fifth Wisconsin congressional district within a half hour after rejecting the news that Victor L. Berger had been excluded from congress, a second time, re-nominated him. The statement was made that he would be the candidate for the party at a special election to be demanded from the governor.

"We will keep on nominating Berger until Hades freezes over if that un-American aggregation called congress continues to exclude him," declared a statement issued by the committee. "We want every person in this country to understand that the voters of the Fifth Wisconsin district know exactly whom they want as their representative in congress and we do not propose to let Gillett and his bunch of Wall Street fawners dictate to us on the subject."

"Berger is our congressman and the action of congress in unseating him a second time only starts the real fight that will not end until every one of the victorians who voted in today's disgraceful proceedings have been retired by the ballot to the oblivion they so richly deserve."

NEW YORK DENTIST FOUND MURDERED
NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The body of J. D. Hanania, 24 years old, a dentist, who had been murdered with a hatchet, was found in his office today by his mother upon her return from religious services. None of the victim's notes or jewels was missing.

The police later sent out a general alarm for a man recently released from Sing Sing prison on parole after serving a term for a murderous assault on a member of the dentist's family.

Winnipeg	22	24	22

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Weather predictions for the week beginning Monday are:

Region of Great Lakes—Excessively cold, with frequent snows. The lower region about the middle of week, temperatures nearly normal, although somewhat below normal in upper lake region after middle of the week.

Upper Mississippi and lower Mississippi valleys—Snow probable over north and middle of river over other sections. A few rain showers with nearly normal temperatures. Generally fair weather, later days with temperatures somewhat below normal.

That was certainly a mean trick that a hold up man played in one Illinois city, when he robbed a census enumerator of his records. Taking the census at so much per name is not a highly remunerative occupation, and then to lose the reward earned thru hold-up men is a very serious loss. This enumerator was robbed of both his time and money, altho these commodities are sometimes reckoned as being one and the same.

THEY ARE NOT OVERPAID

A congressional committee is going from city to city making personal investigation of wages and conditions among employees of the postal department. They are finding that the figures presented to them by postal employees in requests for higher wages are not misleading. The postal men in most instances by comparison with other government workers are not getting their just due.

Automobile drivers in various cities are being urged by traffic officials to familiarize themselves with the law, its old provisions and the additions which came thru action of the last general assembly. Since the statute occupies about forty pages of the Illinois book of statutes it is not probable that one out of a thousand autoists will ever carefully peruse the measure. It will remain for police authorities and traffic officials to summarize the important requirements of the law if they expect a great majority of the people to become familiar with them.

The increasing good opinion that the public has of the Salvation Army has been emphasized from time to time in the past months. Further evidences of the position the army now holds is found in Champaign, where a handsome building has just been dedicated for the use of the army.

It was made possible by contributions of the Champaign citizens, who in the war period came to a new understanding of Salvation Army needs, methods and accomplishments.

WORDS ARE PLENTIFUL

The editor of the Saturday Evening Post complains because of the overworked phrases "self-expression," and "the larger life." These are but two of the phrases so frequently used by the high-brow reformer of the day. These along with similar words and phrases mean much or little, just as you happen to view the matter. But as long as some people get a sort of sentimental comfort from the use of such expressions, why interfere with their mental happiness by making protest? The supply of words is about the only thing that is unlimited and so each individual should have the inalienable right of using just as many as he pleases, so long as he isn't abusive.

LET US HOPE

A vein of coal is said to have been discovered in the vicinity of Chapin. Let us hope that it is a thick vein and the coal of good quality. The next thing should be the building of a well equipped mine, altho most people have no idea of the large amount of capital necessary for such an enterprise.

A good mine within ten miles of Jacksonville would be a great source of help in stabilizing the local fuel situation and guaranteeing reasonable prices. Those cities which have coal mines near at hand are always able to buy their fuel at lower costs than is true in communities at a distance from the mines.

THE NEED FOR PLAY

Under a new city statute it is proposed that the superintendent of recreation in St. Louis shall receive an annual salary of $4,000, the superintendent of community centers $2,800 and the director of municipal athletics an increased salary. This has one of the larger cities again given recognition of the importance of play. Some people who used to count play as mere foolishness, a waste of time—have come to know that recreation has its rightful place in every life, not only for the happiness and contentment of the individual but to make his contribution to society and business life more valuable.

BONUSES TO INDUSTRY

Realizing the present activity among industries and the possibility of securing industrial enterprises, one city is proposing free water supply and no taxes for a period of five years, to be offered to all new industries. This generosity should attract some manufacturing plants to the city in question.

In the minds of many people it is a questionable practice for cities to bid one against another for new industries by bonus of money. Generally speaking, when men found a business or located an industry, they take into account all the necessary expenses and the enterprise is expected to stand or fall on its own merits.

The bonus offers to industries must arouse some queer feelings in the minds of men who thru business acumen and earnest activity have successfully managed their own business enterprises, possibly thru struggling years and have accomplished their results without being made beneficiaries of a fund collected in their behalf. Furnishing a site is not overdoing it but payments running thru years sometimes have a bad effect.

Rippling Rhymes
By Walt Mason

The sanest thing on earth is thrift; it is the slogan of the wise; without it human beings drift to joints where paupers wait the flies. All workers now are in demand, there's no excuse for idle lads; employers in the market stand and offer forty kinds of rewards. Work brings a lordly recompense, such as it never brought before; no delegate with any sense will let a wolf camp by his door. It's harvest time for those who wish a bank account to rear and raise, to put some money in a dish, and save it for the rainy days. Said rainy days are bound to come, with wailing winds and heavens dank; then happy he who has a sum of kopecks salted in the bank. It matters not how much you earn, if you believe and think, and say, that coin was merely made to burn, to throw at birds, and foot away. What profits it to shed your sweat, and through the long hours toil and spin, if you are evermore in debt, and dodging bailiffs and their kin? Be thrifty now, while money flows to every till in tinkling streams, and be prepared for Fate's hard blows, and spend old age in pleasant dreams.

A GREAT ORGANIZATION

Christmas Party of the Great Stetson Hat Company of Philadelphia.

The 4,500 employees of the great Stetson Hat Co. of Philadelphia are like a big family. Frank Byrns has loaned the Journal a paper containing a full page account of the Christmas festivities of the giant concern. There is an auditorium in which all can gather and there the exercises were held. Each Christmas the record of each employee is placed in a book so that it may be known what he or she has accomplished. Each employee is encouraged to own stock in the company and each receives a bonus graded according to faithfulness. The concern is a strictly open shop there is nothing placed in the way of unions among the employees nor on the other hand is a person refused employment there who does not belong to a union.

Fifty years ago John B. Stetson conceived the idea of taking the employees into his confidence and the results have shown his wisdom. As holiday gifts the company distributed 2,846 turkeys weighing 42,000 pounds; 520 hats, 1,111 pairs gloves, 1,500 pounds candy, 35 watches, 37 chains, $280,325 cash in bonuses, $75,000 for foremen and apprentices, 695 shares S. B. & L. Ass'n. each worth $200 at maturity, three policies of life insurance, $5,000 each to old and deserving men. The company paid $1,450,000 to war chest and Liberty Bonds and the employees $2,943,000 in war benevolences and bonds and Thrift Stamps.

The whole account of the affair is most interesting reading showing what may be accomplished by wise and mutual interest and endeavors by both employers and employees.

The late Mr. Goster, book merchant of this city, was personally acquainted with a large manufacturer in the east whose establishment was well nigh ideal. Once during a time of depression in business the men met voluntarily and passed a resolution inviting the manager to lower their wages until conditions improved. He was sent for and apprised of their action. As soon as he could command his voice, which was a little time, he thanked them and said he would accept their offer if necessary but it wasn't. Men who had been with the concern for years and had become incapacitated for work drew their pay check Saturday night the same as the active ones.

At last the proprietor passed away and great was the funeral, but when the arrangements were made the men stepped in and said horses couldn't haul that body to the cemetery and in relays they carried the casket themselves.

MANAGER LUTTRELL SECURES NEW PLAY

"Blind Husbands," to be Shown Monday, Presents Age-Old Problem — Exposes He-Vamp's Wiles, and Shows How Avoided.

The state department has made it most difficult for tourist Americans to get passports to certain parts of Europe, but a trip to the Tyrolean Alps is in store for the spectator who attends a performance of "Blind Husbands" which begins at the Luttrell theatre tomorrow.

"Blind Husbands" is conceded to be a masterpiece. It was filmed under the direction of Eric Stroheim, and stars the actor-director himself.

The story concerns a famous American surgeon who loved his beautiful wife to take his love for her for granted.

Stroheim is seen as Lieutenant von Steuben, an American officer, who avails himself of an opportunity to fill the void left in the heart of the young wife by her husband's indifference.

What happened when the famous surgeon realized that he must heal the wound in his wife's heart is vividly depicted at the unusual climax of the production.

Eric Stroheim is best remembered for his portrayal of a Hun officer in "The Heart of Humanity." He wrote, produced and starred in "Blind Husbands." Supporting the star villian is the beautiful Francis Billington and a strong cast of Universal players, among them Sam DeGrasse, H. Gibson-Gowland, Valerie Germanprez and Jack Perrin.

"Blind Husbands" is unlike any picture ever shown according to the testimony of the critics. It has been pronounced the perfect photoplay by more than one pre-release reviewer.

The Most Enthralling Motion Picture Art Has Ever Produced

Stroheim's Wonder Play Presented by Carl Laemmle

BLIND HUSBANDS SEE

THE WIFE —all she asked of life was Love.

THE HUSBAND —too busy to see what others saw.

THE OTHER MAN —an officer and a gentleman.

THE MEETING —in the shadow of the Alps.

THE BEGINNING —"I'm too busy to go with you."

THE WHISPER —while neglect still rankled.

THE TEMPTATION —"why love him? He doesn't love you"

THE GIFT —while she still wavered

THE INN —where Love woke and suspicion slept.

THE SUMMIT —and the truth at last!

THE CONFESSION —"in mercy's name save him."

THE SURRENDER —"now you know what love really is."

When a husband becomes neglectful, unloving, shall the wife accept attentions from another man?

At last! The perfect photoplay! A love-story as appealing as the most beautiful romance in your memory—an adventure picture as gripping as any Serial thriller—a scenic marvel as wondrous as the most inspiring travel picture. But, first and foremost—a human drama of an artistic quality not before felt or seen in moving pictures. Those people are real flesh-and-blood struggling for happiness, each in his own way rising, falling, stumbling upwards—whose settings are wonders of photo-realism—whose faithful detail is an eye-and-mind delight—whose story holds your heart a helpless prisoner.

Until the last tremendous moment comes and the glorious surprise sends you away in a glow of happiness. It is needless to give you here the drama's theme—the pictures in this announcement tell the story. With its absorbing action staged amidst enthralling Alpine scenery, "BLIND HUSBANDS"—the story of two men and a neglected wife—is a soul revelation whose emotions rise as high as the peaks towering out of that abyss towards which Fate implacably drives one of these two men. See "BLIND HUSBANDS" without fail. It is the picture you'll never forget.

See the beautiful and emotional actress she portrays the neglected wife—Wendy Stroheim, The Satan of the Screen, the polished villian, typical He-Vamp

"Broken Blossoms"

Over Night Will Become the Art Sensation of Jacksonville

Suppose, today, for the first time in the world, a rose bloomed in Jacksonville

—No one had ever seen a rose before today. Can you imagine how the beauties of this new wonder would be flashed around the world?

—Imagine if for the first time an airplane flew over Jacksonville—no one had ever heard of the possibility before, and you saw it for the first time today.

Something just as wonderful will happen in Jacksonville—do you know about it?

Europe says America never will become a great nation until she develops beauty, art. Our stage plays, so they say, go not farther than America; our books are read only by Americans; only one American art is supreme around the world. This art, this new budding rose that critics—literary, dramatic and of the arts—have so proclaimed "Broken Blossoms," in the presentation of which are welded together painting, photography, the dramatic stage art, music.

Charles Hanson Towne

Editor of McClure's Magazine

Dear Mr. Griffith:

"I have never cared for motion pictures. So many of them are cheap and tawdry, and the stories seem to have so little relation to life as it is.

"But the other day I went to see 'BROKEN BLOSSOMS' at the Geo. M. Cohan Theatre and I stand converted. If stories can be told in this wonderful way upon the screen, then a new art has indeed arrived—an art as important as that of Poetry or music.

"I could find no single flaw in the presentation. As for what you have done to make this picture the living thing that it is, I have no words to express my admiration.

"It is the greatest step forward that we have known. You have immortalized yourself. I feel that a new era has dawned.

"The voices that cry to you from the mouth of beauty, symphonic voices from the orchestra pit, the Russian Balalaika strings sighing Oriental love from the wings, the weird, strange twang of music of Chinese temples by Chinese musicians on the stage—all yield forth that greatest happiness, the happiness of tears."

FRANCIS G. BLAIR TALKS TO WOMAN'S CLUB

Superintendent of Public Instruction Makes Address Before Woman's Club at January Meeting—Prof. Charles Keep Gives Group of Songs.

The education committee of the Jacksonville Woman's club had charge of the program for the January meeting, held Saturday afternoon at Odd Fellow's temple on East State street. The club members and their friends were present in large numbers to enjoy the afternoon's program. The speaker was Francis G. Blair, superintendent of public instruction of the state, and his subject, "The Unifying Americanizing Influences of the War." The musical program, in charge of Mrs. Barr Brown, included a group of songs by Mr. Charles Keep of the Conservatory of Music faculty. Prof. Keep has a voice of great sweetness and it was heard to special advantage in the numbers he chose for Saturday afternoon. Miss Martha Priest served most acceptably as accompanist.

Mrs. O. F. Bufile, president, was in the chair and after the business program Mrs. Ben Lorton, chairman of the education committee, was called upon to introduce the speaker of the afternoon.

Mr. Blair's theme was "The Unifying Americanizing Influences of the War" and in the course of the address his audience came to a new understanding of the changes which have come about because of the late conflict. He pointed to the great loss of life which resulted from the war and declared that the only hope of the future was the childhood of the nations of the world. He said in part: "Humanity may be likened to a great forest. To the casual observer the forest may appear to be made up of only the great trees, but we know that there is an under forest of young trees, some of them still in the shed, which will some day take the place of those now lifting their majestic heads to the sky. So the careless observer it may appear that humanity is represented by adults but it is a fact that child life, which may be compared to the great under forest, is in reality the most important of all. Some men who were in favor of pouring out our wealth of money and lives to win the war, show little interest in bringing up this great under forest—these children who are to take the place of the men who have been swept away by the war or who have returned broken beyond repair.

I read in the December issue of the North American Review a statement which quotes a certain Frenchman as saying that if the Kaiser had had the wisdom and patience to wait twenty five years longer he would not have had to use an army to occupy France—that he could have done so without the use of force, because in twenty five years with the death rate exceeding the birth rate as it is now there would have been no French nation. The real eastern menace is that the brown and yellow race are perpetuating themselves to a far greater extent than are the white races. We must protect the intellectual minority against the great majority outside.

Obtained New Ideals.

"Out of the war there came a great number of ideals that are worthy of being absorbed by our children, and one of these is the new hardihood that has come to our boys—a hardihood which they were in danger of losing. Our ancestors lived in the open and met hardships of which we do not dream today. The life of hardship had disappeared and our sons felt that they had been born in a protected age and did not have to face the dangers and discomforts that were the lot of their forefathers. There could be detected in the young a sort of feeling that all that needed to be done was already done for them, that they just had to take possession of what was given them and do as little as possible in any general program for the welfare of humanity. The boys who returned from the war were hardened after months of service. With them self had been left in the background until they thought little or nothing of their personal discomfort or hardship. I believe the influence of these boys upon their fellows will be far-reaching, and that from them our boys are going to get a new rugged attitude toward life's hardships.

"Another good thing which has come from the war is a new appreciation of womanhood in a great crisis. I do not believe that our men as a rule needed a war to increase their appreciation of womankind, but there were some men who did not think that women could forget their own affairs sufficiently to grasp a great international problem. This war has proven the fallacy of this belief, for women responded in a way which has left no room for doubt as to their understanding of the problem.

"Another unifying influence of the war is the reunion of the north and the south. Our boys went to France to fight under the same flag, in the same cause and against a common enemy. Old differences have been forgotten, and hereafter on Memorial Day we are not going to remark the Mason and Dixon line, even with flowers. In the years to come the real league of nations will be a league of emotions and of the hearts of the world. You cannot bring the world together thru selfishness, but when the hearts and minds, thru the emotions, are brought together you have a league that will hold all mankind together.

"Need Careful Watching.
"Today, when the smoke of battle has hardly cleared away, there are certain things that already threaten the fine spirit of accord which characterized us during the war. We hear a great deal about certain elements of society which are threatening our government, and there are many people who will tell you that our citizens of German descent are not patriotic. I have visited many communities in the state where a large percentage of the citizens are of German descent, and I am firmly of the belief that they as a general rule are just as patriotic as are our own American people. After all even there are some dangerous elements which need careful watching. In the main all the foreign-born elements need a little more of sympathy and faith on our part. We must teach in every school in this country that there is no such thing as an American name. Scan the lists of the names of those who died across the water during the recent conflict and you will find name after name which has a foreign sound. Because the name is not spelled and pronounced in the American way is no proof that the owner is an alien. A man may have a name and accent and yet be true American thru and thru.

The Emotional Map.
"The greatest reconstruction problem we have before us today is the reconstruction of the emotional map of the world. The geographic map has been shot to pieces, to use a popular phrase, but the emotional and sentimental map of the world has had a far greater shaking up. You women of the country must help us as teachers to bring the boys and girls to absorb these new ideals which have come from the war. If we do our full duty by this great under forest which is to some day take the place of the men and women of the present, we shall have a league of peace, a covenant of nations ripped out of the very sky and never again shall there come such an experience as that thru which we have passed in the past four or five years."

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES

The regular meeting of the Illinois college Y. M. C. A. was held last Tuesday evening in the chapel of the Jones building. Walter G. Mitchell gave a talk on "The Association Objective." The meeting closed with considerable discussion of the needs of the Y. M. C. A.

The Dramatic club is practicing three one-act plays to be given in the near future. The plays to be given are "The Dear Departed," "The Wonder Hat," and "Where But in America?"

Miss Grace Marshall '21 and Franklin D. Scott '22, who represented the college at the eighth International Student Volunteer convention at Des Moines, Iowa, December 31st to January 4th, made their reports of the convention at chapel Thursday morning. The convention was probably the largest of the kind ever held, there being nearly eight thousand delegates from all parts of the world. Many missionaries in active service returned to America to participate in the conference.

Miss Helen Taylor '20 has finished her work at the college and is teaching mathematics in the high school at Bowling Green, Mo. She expects to return for formal graduation in June. Miss Bessie Campbell '20 is expecting to finish her work here the latter part of February and will then take a position as instructor in English at the Alton high school. She also expects to return for graduation in June.

Professor G. H. Scott attended the Illinois State Teachers' association meeting in Springfield, December 29-31 representing the college at the session of the Federation of Illinois colleges. Among others who spent part of the vacation time in Jacksonville were George Garrison '21, who is attending Medical school in Chicago, Charlotte Hayden '08, who is teaching at Tudor hall, Indianapolis, Ind., and Mrs. George Owen Bradford '12 of Rockford, Illinois.

With the beginning of the second semester several special courses will be added to the schedule. Professor Isabel S. Smith expects to offer a bird course, and Professor Erwin Escher a course in the history of art.

COLLEGE OF MUSIC

The afternoon student's recital will be resumed next Thursday. The first evening recital by the pupils will take place Monday evening, January 19th.

Of the music faculty who left town for the vacation, Mrs. Coleman went to Jacksonville, Ill., Mrs. Hartman to Fon du Lac, Wis., and Miss Lazelle to Chicago.

Miss Gladys Sargeant went to Chicago during the holidays to meet Mrs. Lazelle and sing or concert and lecture managers, preparatory to entering the professional field next season.

Joseph Bonnet, the great French organist who will play at the woman's college on the evening of February 6th, like all other great French artists, offered himself for his country in its time of need. The following stories have come from his experiences in the army. In passing thru a mountain village at the moment the great victory of the Allies was announced he found the regiment assembled to celebrate. He immediately inquired, "Why the bells not ring?" Taking the key of the tower, he rushed in and mounted the staircase, where he played a Te Deum, "America" and "La Marseillaise." Tremendous enthusiasm prevailed among the troops, who were "at attention," the townspeople, and surrounding villagers.

One day when passing thru a village it was learned that the parish church contained an organ. The man who had already heard of his fame immediately asked Bonnet to play for them. The church was quickly filled with blue uniforms and the organ loft with the criers of the regiment. "I cannot hold his breaths spell-bound with his marvelous playing now so well known and appreciated in America. As soon as he had finished the commander was giving his hand enthusiastically exclaimed, "If he plays like this as corporal what will he do when he becomes a general!"

As a conclusion of one of his concerts recently, before the organ had subsided, a lady rushed to one of the tubers and excitedly demanded, "How many fellows were playing the organ?" Young told, "only one," she replied, "really he is a veritable wizard!"

TAKE CARE OF HORSES DURING COLD WEATHER

Humane Society Warns Owners They Must Properly Protect Animals—Violations of Law Will Be Punished.

We wish to call attention to the public to the care of animals especially this cold weather. We find a great many poor old horses given away or sold for a very small sum to people who have not the means to feed them properly. They starve them and work them until they drop in their tracks. We had one case several days ago where the horse fell and was so poor it did not have strength to get up and had to be destroyed. This happened in one of the downtown business streets not far from the street cars and is liable to stop traffic and cause accidents. Now the parties who dispose of old horses this way are just as morally responsible as those who get them for they must know the condition they are in.

Where horses are old and have bad teeth they should be fed ground feed in the winter and a good hot bran mash mixed with oats twice a week will be quite a help to them and cost no more. Our officer, Mr. Reid in looking over some parts of the city found about 250 hogs and about 9 out of 10 had no bedding but the frozen ground to lay on. Straw for bedding saves feed and pays for itself. Please pay attention to them.

GUY L. SHAW.

Candidate for Republican Nomination for Congress.

Elsewhere in this issue appears the authorized announcement of Guy L. Shaw of Beardstown as Republican candidate for member of congress in the lower house, for the 20th district of Illinois.

This congressional district is quite largely agricultural, and the farmers of this district feel they want one who is interested in their problems to represent them in congress; and because of Mr. Shaw's wide acquaintance with the conditions which confront the agricultural interests of the district, he has been urged by the farmers to become a candidate.

Mr. Shaw was born and reared on a farm in this district. His training and education was general, but largely along agricultural lines. He has been engaged in farming all of his life, except during the time spent attending the college of agriculture of the University of Illinois. For the past ten or twelve years Mr. Shaw has been engaged in farming and the management of farms on a large scale, which has given him a very wide experience in all of the phases of agriculture.

Mr. Shaw stands for constructive work along business and agricultural lines. While he feels that it would be an honor to represent this district in the lower house of congress, he is not seeking the office for mere glory or gain, but to do actual service for this district.

Few men are interested in the problems of farming and the general welfare of the people of this district as is Mr. Shaw. He is well qualified for the office which he seeks, and if elected, will devote his best efforts to making laws that will best meet the needs of the common people of this district.

Call up Officer Reid 577 Ill. phone when you know of anything that needs attention. Membership can be had from Mr. Reid, W. A. Jenkins, Dr. Scott, Miss Florence Ward, Frank J. Reid. Please cut this out for future reference.

WARNING

It may surprise many to know that, despite a growing demand, the coming year will bring forth the greatest shortage in motor cars yet experienced.

Within the next six months the direct result will be felt of the great steel strike. The reserve steel will hardly last thru the first quarter of this year, and it will be some time before normal production is again reached.

The result will naturally mean another raise of prices in a short time. Order your car NOW.

FEW SLEIGH BELLS.

To an elderly person the absence of sleigh bells when the sleighing and weather are so well high perfect for snow runners is just a trifle sad. Time was when the bells would have been ringing merrily all about town and somewhat in the country too for the going is fine but the automobile has supplanted the sleigh and they are conspicuous by their absence. A very few have been heard but they were so scattering as to sound almost like a requiem. The world do move and we must move with it.

DR. H. E. MARSELUS TO TRANSFER TO PEORIA

Has Been Member of Jacksonville State Hospital Staff for Past Two Years—Expects to Leave Local Institution First of Week—Other Hospital Notes.

Dr. H. E. Marselus, a member of the Jacksonville State Hospital staff for the past two years is to be transferred to Peoria State Hospital. He and Mrs. Marselus expect to go to Peoria the first of the week.

Yesterday afternoon one hundred and twenty-five patients from the Occupational Center enjoyed a card party. Refreshments and judge sandwiches were served. Last night a house party was given at the Main Amusement Hall from 7 to 9 o'clock, the following games being played by the patients: Hound and Rabbit, Jump the Bean Bag, Hand Over Head Bean Bag, Fetch and Carry, Stride Ball, Mount Ball and Huckle, Huckle, Bean Stalk.

Last evening a bob sled ride was enjoyed by several from the institution. The party drove to a lumber camp in the vicinity of Sinclair where cocoa, sandwiches, angel food cake, fruit, olives and pickles were served. Among those who were included in the party were: Industrial Superintendent John O'Brien, the driver; Assistant Chief Nurse Jennie Atkins, Chief Nurse Rose Whipp, Occupational Therapy Director Carrie Hoppe, Miss Alice Ottwell, stenographer, Supervisor C. ILLINOIS COLLEGE DEFEATS SHURTLEFF

Overwhelm Visitors by Score of 39 to 12—Coach Harmon Gives His Squad a Chance to Play—Illinois Men Look Good.

Coach Harmon's Illinois College basketball squad defeated Shurtleff college of Alton in David Prince gymnasium Saturday night by a score of 39 to 12. Both teams played fast and there was some excellent team work. However, when the ball was worked down to the basket neither team seemed to have an eye for the hoop.

The only exceptions, perhaps, were Frazer and Tomlinson. Frazer particularly did some excellent work and several of his shots were from difficult angles. Jones at guard played an excellent game as did Andrew, while Cully and Antrobus who entered the game in the second half also played a fast game.

Coach Harmon gave every man in his squad a chance in the game and all of them showed good form. It is probable that Harmon has not made up his mind what combination will represent the college as yet and wanted to get a line on the men in a game.

It has been some years since Illinois had such a good looking squad. Harmon has enough men to make up three full fives and all of them have had basketball experience. After a few games he should be able to pick a combination that will give any team in the "Little Nineteen" a run for the money.

Shurtleff did not show much. The men seemed to lack practice, they did not show good floor work at times. However, they were off in basket shooting and missed a number of good shots right under the basket.

The game started off with a rush and Illinois after several minutes play scored a field basket. From this to the end of the half they kept increasing their lead and when the half closed the score was 21 to 6 in favor of the Blue and White.

Soon after the second half started Harmon inserted Antrobus, Cully, Mellen, Mutch and Andrew. They immediately put new "pep" into the game and showed some excellent floor work. Later several more men were substituted.

The game was witnessed by a large crowd and the students made the game lively with yells for the various men. The score:

NOTICE

Dinner and meeting of Jacksonville Automotive Dealers' Association, Monday night, Dunlap Hotel, six o'clock sharp. Interesting speakers, business of importance. Don't forget.

VARIATIONS IN STOCK

A perusal of the market reports will show a wonderful range in the prices of cattle—animals varying in price from six cents a pound to 21 cents. A veteran dealer was asked regarding that yesterday by a Journal reporter and said the lowest priced stock was used mostly for canning and the cheapest grades of meat. Then the grades slowly ascended on up to eight, nine, ten and so on up to the finest quality.

He said that Mississippi and parts of Tennessee, Louisiana and some other southern districts are producers of the lowest grades and seem to have no care or thought for anything better. For a long time the huge horned steers were alone sent from Texas but now that is largely changed. Parts of Missouri used to send in the scrawny stuff, but now many parts of the poor, old state supply some of the best animals sent.

For the large western ranges the white faced cattle are best; the poor for milk. For choice butter fat the Jersey leads, while for milk and in general the Holstein is away ahead. The Guernsey is coming to the front, while hardly anything can beat the old reliable Shorthorn when properly bred and cared for.

New Auto Famine Is Seen In 1920

There is an Acute Shortage that will continue for at least twelve months.

The demand for automobiles will be greater this winter than ever before in the history of the industry and the spring of 1920 will again find the market swept bare of cars forcing owners to wait weeks and sometimes even months for delivery.

The most optimistic forecasts place the production in 1920 at only 2,000,000 cars. Figuring conservatively, there are 6,500,000 cars in use today in the United States. As the average life of a car is five years, the scrapage each year totals more than 1,000,000 cars. So production will be less than double the actual scrapage.

Take the case of the Essex for instance. In 1919 there were 20,000 Essex built and sold, but even this number proved insufficient to supply the demand. In 1920 the production will be 40,000 cars, the factory having spent more than $2,250,000 during the past year in enlarging its facilities. But still the number we have been able to obtain is not sufficient to satisfy the need of our customers and will be far short of our requirements when the rush to obtain new cars begins in the early spring.

Of course, the Essex is an exceptional car. By combining all the beauty, luxury and performance of the most costly cars with a moderate first price and the utmost economy of operation, it has filled a transportation need. So the demand for it has been unusually heavy but there will be the same shortage of all good cars next summer as there was last year.

Therefore the only way to avoid disappointment in obtaining a car for delivery in the spring is to order at once.

We can supply you NOW in size and style desired, but can promise nothing for the future except to do our best for you. Better call and get a demonstration.

BLUFFS SCHOOL BENEFIT A SUCCESS

Serving of Refreshments Wednesday Evening Proved Most Successful — Other Notes From Bluffs Vicinity.

Bluffs, Jan. 8.—The patrons in co-operation with the superintendent and teachers of the school served chili, hamburger, pie and coffee at the school gymnasium Wednesday evening from 5 to 9 o'clock. The affair was not only a pleasant social one but also a decided success from a financial point. The proceeds were about $45 which will be used for the purchase of rubber treads for the three flights of stairs. The patrons certainly thank the teachers for their splendid co-operation and their kindly assistance which they so cheerfully and freely gave. The lady principal and her two assistants served on the reception committee while the superintendent O. V. Walters acted as cashier. The seventh grade teachers in dainty white aprons assisted in the dining room. A splendid little program under the direction of the lady principal, Miss Faye Reese, was given in the school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock.

E. D. Beird was a business caller in Chicago the first of the week.

Mrs. E. L. Kendall is confined to her home on account of illness. Rollie Little of the Soldier's Hospital in Chicago is home on a furlough. For several months he has been receiving treatment there for injuries to his eyes received while in action overseas.

Mrs. Helen Augustine left Wednesday to spend the remainder of the winter in Jacksonville, Fla.

The Wabash employees of Bluffs have been notified that their passes have been extended until the first of March.

Miss Edith Young of Griggsville spent the latter part of last week with Bessie Sappington.

Maxie Crews went to Peoria for an extended visit with his wife and sister. Mrs. Emma Welch accompanied him as far as Jacksonville.

H. H. Crews was called to Quincy by the death of his brother-in-law J. W. Wilson of that city. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday.

Do you know that the foremost critics have declared that the screen is more powerful than the stage? Mr. Louis Gardy, noted New York dramatic critic, says: "D. W. Griffith, in his production of 'BROKEN BLOSSOMS' has far exceeded the power of the written word. It would be impossible for the greatest master of language to picture the emotions as Griffith has perpetuated them in 'BROKEN BLOSSOMS'."

MAVERICKS

Unless school boards do something about increasing salaries soon all of the male teachers will quit their jobs and go to work on the section.

When we look over the list of men who are talked of as prospective candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination we wonder how some people can take themselves so seriously.

Whiskey might have killed a lot of people who persisted in making hogs of themselves. However, it was not half so dangerous as the home made kind that is being used now.

It appears that Ludwig K. A. C. Martens, who is in this country as a representative of the anarchistic reign in Russia is going to get what is coming to him.

Even whiskey is not safe in charge of the government. Thieves stole a number of bottles seized as evidence, from the department of justice building in Chicago the other day.

However, we are not surprised at anything that happens in Chicago.

Mexican rebels killed two more Americans the other day. It seems to be difficult to distinguish between rebels and federals in Mexico these days.

Reports from Washington are that the state department still has plenty of note paper.

Mr. Bryan says the women saved the Democratic party from defeat in 1916. It wasn't so much the women who saved it as Democratic slogan, "Wilson keep us out of war."

President Wilson showed his hand in his message to the Jackson day banquet. It looks now like the peace treaty will be submitted to the people. If it is we can see its finish right now, unless there are numerous reservations.

Well, it looks like a Republican year anyway. G. W. D.

ILLINOIS WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

Rev. Gowdy of Centenary church had charge of the opening chapel service Tuesday morning and gave an excellent talk on the theme of sanctification for the sake of others.

Dr. and Mrs. James McCord were dinner guests Tuesday evening and spoke in the evening chapel service. Both Mr. and Mrs. McCord have been working in the province of Natal, South Africa, Mr. McCord being a medical missionary, stationed there for work among the natives. They succeeded in interesting the girls in their work by their splendid talks.

Wednesday morning Miss Louise Gates, '14, who is a Y. W. C. A. industrial secretary at Allentown, Pa., talked upon her work among the industrial girls. Her message was of the need of co-operative efforts between the girl in industry and the girl in college.

The college Y. W. C. A. sent on December 31, five delegates to the National Student Volunteer Conference of Des Moines, where over 7,500 college people interested in missionary work were gathered together.

Miss Mary Hazel Klinger, who is teaching in Hedding college, Abingdon, was the guest of Miss Coleen Smith, Monday.

Paul and Harry Ratliff of Lancaster, Washington, were here Tuesday visiting Miss Hazel Dell.

Miss Ruth Harker was hostess at a 6 o'clock dinner on Thursday evening when the engagements of Miss Louise Fletcher to Mr. Wylie Hunt of Gibson City, and Miss Julia Pitkin to Mr. Woodford A. Matlock of Denver, Col., were announced. Decorations were carried out in pink and white, the announcements being found in the hearts of pink roses.

Miss Louise Robinson, who was physical director at the college three years ago, is a guest of Miss Miner over the week end. Miss Robinson spoke at chapel Saturday morning, telling of her work as an aide in reconstruction service in the army hospitals. At present Miss Robinson is located at Jefferson Barracks in St. Louis. Her story of the work which is being done for the crippled soldier was full of interest to both students and faculty.

Hon. F. G. Blair, superintendent of public instruction, was a guest of Dr. and Mrs. Harker Saturday evening. After dinner he spoke briefly to the students.

"Second Hand Store."

We do BUY, REFINISH, RE-UPHOLSTER AND SELL USED FURNITURE

We are following a growing custom in the larger towns where each furniture store either has a used department or carries a separate stock of used goods. Such a store is of a different character from the place where you could buy a used suit of clothes, a horse collar or a pistol. Our business is furniture and nothing else. If you have furniture that you wish to sell we buy it and pay whatever it is worth. If you wish furniture refinished, re-upholstered, by some one who has been in the business twenty-five years, we offer our service.

Remember that we have more than a dozen items of house furnishings as usually published in our weekly list. The same areal worth while furniture at a price that will sell them.

When you say, 'What's the price'

When you come in here and pick out a suit and say to the salesman "How much?"

He'll say "$40" perhaps, or maybe "$50" or "$60" —depends on the suit you choose.

You may say "Why, I can beat that price $5 or $10."

Probably you can; but that isn't the point, you can't get as much clothes value for your money anywhere else; that $5 or $10 is in the suit; it's the $5 or $10 that makes good quality possible; and that makes the suit outwear the cheaper one two to one.

PHILANTHROPY OF GREEN CO. COUPLE APPRECIATED

WHITE HALL, Jan. 10.—While all the world marvels at the gift of Rockefeller and Carnegie whose benefactions are looked upon with more or less envy, White Hall has a couple of philanthropists whose works and accomplishments have produced wonderful results for the good of the community, and affords a lesson that might be a pattern for others who desire to make their lives and fortunes a benediction to mankind.

The word philanthropy is defined as meaning "love of mankind; benevolence." There are many avenues for the services and endowments of the philanthropist. The late Andrew Carnegie declared it to be a more difficult task to dispose of his vast wealth in beneficent and effective philanthropic endeavors than it was for him to accumulate it. To give away wealth in quantity that will insure to the continued benefit of the community involves foresight and an understanding of human needs with which the average individual is not endowed. The first requirement is the altruistic spirit that moves the giver to the desire to use accumulated wealth to promote the happiness and well-being of their fellow citizens.

Philanthropic Spirit Manifest.
The spirit of philanthropy was never so manifest among people of wealth as it is today visualized by students of philanthropy. Philanthropy is not a new thing to White Hall. It is an element of our citizenship that is bearing fruit in recent years. Back for twenty years or more were heard rumors of what might be done by a couple of our citizens who today rank as the leading philanthropists of Greene county if not in Central Illinois. Mr. and Mrs. Seth A. Griswold. It was evident all these years that the Griswolds had it in their hearts to do some substantial act of philanthropy for their home community, but the question that continued to face them was, "What is the best thing for us to do?" They studied and analyzed the many movements for civic progress as they came and went, and those who watched their participation in these things in the way of financial support could fathom nothing to indicate what they had in their minds when their contributions would not go above the average of other citizens in the amounts, but they always did their part in these movements.

The park agitation was something that would not down, but the average citizen did not and would not believe that in this movement Mr. and Mrs. Griswold would eventually take the leading and sole part in providing the city with a beautiful park. It was known for several years back that Mrs. Griswold took an especial interest in the local band organization and some had the temerity Opportunity Present for Park Venture.

One beautiful morning during the late spring of 1907, Mr. Griswold was invited by James D. Rowe to meet a company of friends in a real estate office, to which Mr. Griswold unhesitatingly responded. It should be here stated to the credit of Mr. Rowe that he had the disposition of a piece of property that he was determined should be bought in some way for park purposes exclusively, and later developments prove that he did an important service for the city.

Getting back to our story, Mr. Griswold went to Mr. Rowe's office promptly, and presented a surprised look (not the unpleasant kind) to be met by H. C. O. Tunison, W. F. Dillman and Mark Lowenstein, who stated that their purpose was the purchase of the Doctor J. N. Israel residence property at the corner of Main and Franklin streets for park purposes and that it was desired that Mr. Griswold furnish the funds and take as security the joint note of those present.

This Mr. Griswold consented to do with willingness that sent a thrill of joy about the room, and the papers were ordered drawn up. Now came the unexpected event. It has never been stated whether the note to Mr. Griswold was issued, but events do prove that from this time on Mr. and Mrs. Griswold centralized their thoughts and desires on the park idea. The Dr. Israel property was purchased from Mrs. Fletcher E. Cain, the title being vested in Mr. Griswold and the four men who had expected to jointly secure the money advanced for the purchase of the property were notified that they had been released from the obligation. It was a new sensation to these gentlemen to learn that a sum as large as $3,000 had been spent for the public good without any obligation upon the part of the community. Neither could it be said that the donors had any political or mercenary motives of any sort in their action, and this feature made the act all the more impressive.

Here was really the beginning of a park for White Hall, and it was not long until the property in the rear was also purchased by the Griswolds, and the entire tract cleared in 1908 and improved for park purposes, forming the original Whiteside Park, extending from Main to Jackson streets, the strip being 101 feet in width. Mr. Griswold gave his personal check for $600 for the construction of concrete walks, and other improvements were paid for by the Griswolds, including the massive entrance on the south and seating and lighting fixtures. The city council has since 1908 made an annual appropriation of $600 for park purposes, except that one year the appropriation was made $1,000, all of which has been used for the maintenance and improvement of Whiteside Park.

WOMEN, PREPARE!

Thousands of women in Illinois have overcome their sufferings, and have been cured of woman's ills by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This temperance medicine, though started half a century ago, sells most widely to-day. It can now be had in tablet form as well as quid, and every woman who suffers from headache, nervousness, should take this "Prescription" of Dr. Pierce's. It is prepared from nature's roots and herbs and does not contain a particle of alcohol or any narcotic. It's not a secret prescription for its ingredients are printed on wrapper. Tablets 60 cents at druggists.

Write confidentially about your case or send 10 cents for trial package of "Favorite Prescription Tablets" to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Savanna, Ill.—"During my second expectant period I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic. My health was perfect all the time up to the eighth month when I met with a serious accident, a step gave way and I fell. I kept right on taking the Prescription and I am sure that this tonic prevented serious consequences. It was with my doctor's approval that I kept right on taking 'Favorite Prescription.' I had no fever or any other troubles. I feel most grateful for what his medicine did for me at that time and am always pleased to recommend it."

—Mrs. JENNIE CORRELL, 600 Bowen St., Rockford, Ill.—"To anyone desiring a mild and safe laxative I never fail to speak a good word for Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I put this remedy above all others for constipation and sick headaches." —Mrs. CARRIE L. PIER, 124 Kilbuck Ave.

community will little note or long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they have done.

A year following the dedication of the original park, Mrs. Griswold purchased the John Boehm residence property at the corner of Sherman and Jacksonville streets, thinking this might be converted into a public rest room. The public hitching grounds in another year were thrown into the park connecting the Boehm tract with the original park, giving the park a new boundary between Sherman and Franklin streets along Jacksonville street, and by subsequent purchases of frame eyewares additional ground has been added to the park that leaves only a row of brick business buildings on Main street that is not now devoted to Whiteside Park in the entire block bounded by Main, Franklin, Jacksonville and Sherman streets. These extensions were purchased by the Griswolds, and their expenditures now total in excess of $15,000.

The Boehm property was not converted into a public rest room according to the original desires of Mrs. Griswold, and later events prove the wisdom of the delay. A memorial arch is to be erected at the northeast corner, for which purpose Mrs. Griswold has provided a fund of $1,000. The public rest room plans are being enlarged upon by T. J. Grant, president of the park commission, and if his plans meet with approval they will provide a soldiers' memorial hall and museum for which purpose a tax of two mills may be submitted at the township election next spring. The library association has been invited to join in this building project, in which event library facilities to meet the growing needs of the township library will be provided. The library is now supported on a one-half mill tax, and the law permits a tax of two mills for library purposes. A total tax of four mills for the combined soldiers' memorial and library projects will bring an income of about $5,000 per year.

The Most Beautiful Car in America

The Newest and Finest of All Light Sixes

In these days of advanced engineering it is a very simple matter to design a six-cylinder motor that is both powerful and speedy. The complications arise, however, when to these qualities, must be added new standards of dependability and economy of operation.

There, in one paragraph, you have an explanation of the three years of experiment and testing behind our new five-passenger "Glenbrook" model.

A few months would have sufficed to produce the "average" power plant and chassis—but we have never been interested in "average" achievements.

So we worked for three long years, patiently meeting and solving every problem that confronted us.

Then came the final tests—the merciless trials of power, speed and endurance—and the proud realization that our car was indeed the finest of all light sixes.

The rest of the story you probably know, for the public has rendered its verdict in no uncertain terms.

The "Glenbrook" stands unchallenged as the greatest dollar-for-dollar value in the field of five-passenger motor cars.

We predict that it will maintain this position for several seasons to come.

Send us two trade-marks from Jiffy-Jell packages—the (J) circle and the (J) circle—on the front. That will certify that you use Jiffy-Jell.

We will mail you this half-pint cup. It is an exact cup for use with any recipe. And two fillings with water dissolve one package of Jiffy-Jell exactly right.

The flavors come in liquid form, in bottles. They are juices of crushed fruit concentrated.

Jiffy-Jell has a wealth of fruit flavor. We use half a pineapple, for instance, to flavor a pint dessert. The Pineapples are crushed in Hawaii—fruit too ripe to ship.

It is real fruit, not mere flavor, that folks like and need.

11 HENS LAY NOW
221 EGGS A MONTH

Mrs. Young Almost Gave Up Raising Chickens. Then She Tried This Plan.

"When I accepted your offer and tried Don Sung, I had been getting 1 or 2 eggs every other day. The next month, using 30 cents worth of Don Sung, my 11 hens laid 221 eggs. I almost gave up raising chickens, but now I have decided to raise as many as I can.—Mrs. F. C. Young, Bellefonte, Pa.

Feed is too expensive to waste on idle hens. You can easily start your hens laying and keep them laying, even in coldest winter. To prove it, all you need do is accept our offer, as Mrs. Young did.

Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, tell us and your money will be promptly refunded. Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying works directly on the egg-laying organs, and is also a splendid tonic. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health, makes her stronger and more active in any weather, and starts her laying.

Try Don Sung for 30 days and if it doesn't get you the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail. Get Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer or send 50 cents for a package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Duizer Co., 284 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

CHIROPRACTIC
(KI-RO-PRAK-TIC)CHIROPRACTOR
(KI-RO-PRAK-TOR)

Bear these two words in mind. Become acquainted with them. In them lies the hope of relief and restoration to the ill and suffering.

It's not many years since Chiropractic was discovered. Yet today thousands who were sick and ailing are restored to health and are happy witnesses to the merits of this modern drugless way to health. The handful of pioneers has grown until there are now nearly 10,000 Chiropractors successfully practicing in the face of the bitterest criticism and strongest opposition that ever hindered a new and worthy idea. Chiropractic lives and advances because it is right; because the results it obtains are the best arguments in its favor.

Chiropractic demonstrates that there is a cause for all disease and invariably it is found in the spine. By scientific adjustments, without the use of drugs or knife, the Chiropractor corrects these defects and Nature effects the cure. Through the percentage of restorations is so large that the necessity for the employment of all other health methods becomes insignificant. It is equally as effective for men, women and children. It is the HOPE for all suffering Humanity. Information gladly given.

MRS. WALTER HAS GAINED 20 POUNDS

Six Years of Stomach Trouble
 Ended by Taking Tanlac —
 Strong as Ever, Now.

"By the help of Tanlac I am rid of a case of stomach trouble that made life miserable for five years, and I have gained twenty pounds in weight," said Mrs. M. Walter, who resides at 203 West Mulberry street, Bloomington, Ill. Continuing, she said:

"I had an extremely poor appetite and would have to force down what little I did manage to eat, tense misery. I would float and even this would cause me in something awful and my heart would palpitate so badly it would frighten me, and I also had great difficulty in breathing at times. I would also have such cramping pains in my stomach I could hardly stand them. I was troubled a great deal with my kidneys and I would just almost scream with pain that would start in the small of my back and seem to work up under my shoulder blades. I could get but little sleep, as I could lie no position in which I would not be in misery. Loss of sleep and pain and lack of nourishment soon caused me to lose weight until I was scarcely more than a frame and I was so weak I could do hardly any of my housework. I would also have terrible splitting headaches and would become so dizzy at times I would have to catch hold of something or sit down to keep from falling. Well, I just dragged out year after year in this state to find anything to help me, although I had tried every kind of terrible condition without being treated and medicine I could hear of, and had become very much discouraged, when one day I met a friend of mine I had not seen before in six months and who the last time I saw her was in an awful bad condition and suffering terribly, but who now was a perfect picture of health and looked at least twenty years younger. She declared she was well and that she owed it all to Tanlac, and advised me to try it.

"I took her advice and began taking Tanlac, and I want to say right here it is the grandest medicine on earth in my opinion. I soon had a fine appetite and could eat anything I wanted without suffering any bad after effects, and I was never troubled with gas or palpitation of the heart. I continued taking it until I am a healthy woman again. My kidneys never bother me at all and the pains in my back have entirely left me, and I have not had the headache or those dizzy spells since I started taking Tanlac. I am as strong as I ever was in my life and can do all my housework with the greatest ease. If I could get Tanlac I wouldn't care whether there was any other medicine in the world, for I have such faith in it I don't believe I would ever need anything else."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover & Shreve; in Meredosia by Mr. R. B. Field; in Murrayville by M. E. Gilbert; in Waverly by Wyle Drug Co.; in Woodstock by The Hoy Pharmacy; in Chapin by John Onken & Bros.; and in Alexander by Frank J. Kaiser.—Adv.

SANITARIUM FACILITIES FOR DISCHARGED SERVICE MEN

Under the act of March 3, 1919 (Public Act 326) entitled "An Act to authorize the secretary of the treasury to provide hospital and sanitarium facilities for discharged sick soldiers, sailors and marines," the U. S. public health service will furnish relief to any honorably discharged sick and disabled soldier, sailor or marine, army and navy nurse (male and female), who was discharged on or after October 6, 1917, and is seeking treatment for disability due to illness or injury incurred previous to discharge from the service and not due to his own misconduct.

Cases Handled by Pension Bureau.
 Those discharged prior to October 6, 1917, are the responsibility of the U. S. pension bureau, Washington, D. C., to which application should be made. The only provision for medical care for such men is in the national soldiers' home. Reciprocal arrangement has been made for the treatment of Canadians in this country and Americans in Canada. Disabled Canadians therefore, should be referred to the public health service in the same manner as are soldiers of the United States.

Treatment at Hospitals.
 "Discharged soldiers, sailors and marines and civilians and the law, and in the matter of hospital treatment come under the provisions of paragraph 1459, army regulations. However, any soldier, sailor or marine who has been honorably discharged since October 6, 1917, for disability incurred in line of duty, and whose present condition is a reactivation of that disability or is consequent upon it, is entitled to hospital or sanitarium care under the provisions of the War Risk Insurance act in public health service hospital, military hospital, if there be room for him, or in local civilian institutions." (Extract from Bulletin No. 37, war department, Nov. 4, 1919.)

Evidence Required.
 When a reasonable doubt exists whether the disability or injury occurred before discharge, the applicant will be placed immediately under treatment, pending a decision as to his eligibility for treatment, which decision will be made on receipt of his papers. The applicant must present evidence of illness or disability existing at the time of his separation from the service, such evidence to be furnished by either his official discharge or a certified copy thereof or by his hospital record. If the applicant has a certificate of discharge without statement of any disability, the public health officer may consider whether the disability for which he claims treatment is due to a reactivation of a condition for which he had previously received treatment while in the military service or whether the present disability cannot reasonably be connected with a former injury or disease incurred in the military service. If the claimant's military record does not show that the disability existed at the time of his entrance into the service, the law provides that he shall be deemed to have been in sound condition at the time he enrolled for service.

How to Obtain Treatment.
 When a discharged service man makes application to the medical officer in charge of a relief station of the public health service, he is required to fill out war risk insurance form 526; if it is apparent that he is entitled to treatment by the war risk insurance bureau or the medical officer directs him to report to the nearest relief station where an examination is given and the necessary treatment is furnished either in or out of a hospital.

May Be Treated at Home.
 If the applicant lives more than one hundred miles from a relief station or is unable to proceed to the hospital or relief station, he is instructed to apply for admission to a hospital near his home selected by the officer in charge of the relief station to which the applicant applies; and instructions are sent to the resident physician of the hospital to give the man examination and treatment at a rate not exceeding $2.50 a day. In addition to ward treatment, the usual extra charge will be paid by the war risk insurance bureau for use of operating room, X-ray plates and services of an anesthetist.

Traveling Expenses Paid.
 Wherever possible the patient is treated at the hospital at the relief station. If it is impossible for him to travel, arrangements are made for his treatment at home. The travel expenses of the patient to the place of examination, the hospital expenses while he is being examined, and his expenses in returning home, together with the wages lost by him while undergoing the examination, are paid by the war risk insurance bureau.

Special Hospitals.
 Patients are treated, so far as possible, in the district in which they make application; where, however, they are suffering from chronic diseases or can be benefited by change of climate, they may be sent to special hospitals. Artificial Limbs and Dental Work.
 The expense of prosthetic apparatus is paid by the war risk insurance bureau. Dental work, either curative or prophylactic, will be authorized, but only to the extent necessary to relieve the disability for which the claimant was discharged from the service. No Treatment for Venereal Diseases.

The public service is unable to give hospital treatment to any discharged soldier suffering from venereal disease. The interpretation placed on the law by the war risk insurance bureau is that such diseases are caused by the applicant's own misconduct, and that consequently no funds of the war risk insurance bureau can legally be used in their treatment. The public health service has no funds which can be used for this purpose, and can offer only the treatment given at the free public clinics which are held three times each week at each relief station.

Burial Expenses Paid.
 Patients of the war risk insurance bureau, who die in hospitals of the public health service may be buried at the stations at hundred dollars, which will be paid by the service. In the event relatives or others entitled to the custody of the body request it, reasonable and necessary expenses for transportation of the body of the deceased to his former home or burial may be paid by the war risk insurance bureau.

Co-Operation of Red Cross.
 The American Red Cross is co-operating by extending its home service and recreational activities to hospitals operated by the public health service, and to army, navy and marine hospitals.

Units of Public Health Service.
 The public health service is divided into fourteen geographical districts, under the direction of district supervisors. In each state is a state supervisor with local examiners; the state supervisors overseas and advises the local examiners in his respective state; and the local examiners examines all service beneficiaries applying to him for treatment of their own volition or by direction. If there is no relief station in the vicinity, the local examiner may furnish treatment and give prescriptions which will be filled at a local druggist.

Compensation How Obtained.
 Quite a number of discharged service men apparently are entitled to compensation by the government for injuries or disease contracted or aggravated in their service, but are not aware of their rights. Any member of the military or naval service, including marines, who thinks he is entitled to compensation should make application for it to the nearest representative of the United States public health service. Directions for getting in touch with these representatives of the health service are given in a succeeding paragraph. The disability with which the applicant is suffering must, of course, have been incurred or aggravated in the line of duty and in active service in the military or naval establishment. Very often the fact of a man having applied for and been granted compensation will determine his eligibility for vocational training or vocational board of vocational education and this alone would make it important that all eligibles apply.

Training Affects Compensation.
 It should be borne in mind that when a man receives vocational training his compensation is suspended and he receives the allowances granted by the federal board. The allowances, however, are never less than amount to more. After he finishes training his compensation automatically commences again.

Publicity by Health Service.
 An effort has been made by the public health service, by means of circulars, posters in postoffices, etc., to inform the public of the relief offered by that service to discharged soldiers, sailors and marines.

To Find Health Officers.
 The addresses of public health officers in charge of relief stations may be learned by applicants from their local postmasters, from the American Red Cross and from the state and municipal health officers. In cities or towns large enough to maintain a municipal health service, the local health officer will furnish the name and address of the nearest representative of the U. S. public health service or local examiner for the bureau of war risk insurance. In communities which do not maintain municipal health services, the application for the address of either of these representatives can be made to the state health service at the state capitol or to any U. S. post-office. The local examiners mentioned above are physicians in the district appointed by the bureau of war risk insurance, to examine discharged service men who have occasion to apply for compensation or medical and hospital treatment. All civil and welfare associations, soldier placement bureaus, having to do with the assisting of discharged soldiers, sailors and marines, should be prepared to help any applicant to get in touch with these facilities which the government has provided.

Correspondence Health Service.
 All correspondence with the war risk insurance bureau relative to medical examination or care of any claimant should be addressed to "The Chief Medical Advisor, Bureau of War Risk Insurance, Washington, D. C." and transmitted thru the surgeon general of the public health service, the envelope being addressed to the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, Hospital Division, Washington, D. C.

RESENT IMPLICATION OF ANY PROFITEERING

Shareholders of Packing Company Resent Accusations and Criticisms of Corporation — Louis F. Swift Addresses Annual Meeting Yesterday Afternoon.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10—Shareholders of Swift & Company resent any implications of profiteering, according to President Louis F. Swift, in his address at the annual meeting of the company this afternoon, because the charge is untrue.

Employees of the company were urged to get in debt for the company's securities or something else worth while and when they got out of debt get in again.

Announcement of the retirement of F. S. Hayward, secretary of the company was made.

An employees' relations department with John Calder as its head has been established to cultivate the human element in the personnel of the packing business.

yard terminal railroads and stockyard newspapers was expressed.

In his address Mr. Swift said: "Every shareholder of Swift & Company naturally resents criticism of the company and he resents more than anything else the implication of 'profiteering.' Swift & Company is not a profiteer."

"I have said before to employees of Swift & Company, 'get in debt.' It has turned out to be a good thing. Many employees have told me that going into debt to buy Swift & Company stock was the best thing they ever did financially; that it has been the means of their acquiring a permanent investment returning a reasonable income that they otherwise would not have had. So I say again—go in debt, not for clothing or for luxuries, but for some investment of intrinsic value that is worth saving for. As soon as you get one thing paid up, buy something else and get in debt again."

"We hope that all the employees who purchase Swift & Company stock will hold it as an investment, and I feel sure that they will find it worth their while."

"There will be a change in the office of the secretary of Swift & Company. Mr. F. S. Hayward who has been secretary since 1911 is retiring from business."

"We have recently established a department of employees' relations under the direction of Mr. John Calder. It will be our object through this department to cultivate and further develop the human element in our business. We now have 23,000 employees who have shown their interest in the company by subscribing for its shares. With our Employees' Benefit association, which last year took care of 9,100 persons and paid benefits amounting to $398,000, and our pension fund and various social activities, we feel that Swift & Company is a good concern in our business, with and we are trying to make it better."

"Your directors have for some time, as evidenced by the segregation that have been made, had it in mind to confine the business of Swift & Company to the activities directly related to the slaughter of meat animals and the products therefrom and to the handling of what is called produce, namely, poultry, butter, eggs and cheese."

"While we have felt that we have had a perfect right both morally and legally to be engaged in any related lines that we could manufacture and distribute economically, there seems to have been a certain amount of public sentiment against one packing concern being engaged in many different lines of business. Our interest in these businesses has been perfectly legitimate from every point of view but we have nevertheless thought it best to dispose of the more remotely connected enterprises. Swift & Company therefore expressed a willingness to dispose of its interests in Public stockyards. Stockyard terminal railroads. Stock yard newspapers. If a legal way can be found, and to discontinue handling various lines, principally canned goods and a few minor articles which have been sold in small quantities but which do not aggregate more than 3 per cent of our total business."

"We trust that the public will realize that we have made these concessions with a sincere desire to co-operate in allaying the agitation which is harmful to our business and to the public at large."

"We called your attention last year to the high inventory prices and to the fact that a shrinkage in values would be bound to occur sooner or later. Such a shrinkage has occurred and has produced a drop in earnings, as our figures will show."

"Considering the decline in values in consequence of the withdrawal of foreign buyers from the market last fall and the low price of foreign exchange affecting our exports we have done fairly well, having paid 8 per cent dividends and carried $3,806,721.34 to our surplus account."

"Our total sales were over $1,200,000,000. Our profit was equivalent to 1.15 cents on each dollar of sales of all kinds of products."

(Continued on Page Fourteen.) which should be adequate to maintain such a community center in splendid shape, but will hardly provide an adequate building fund of about $25,000, which is the least amount that will provide quarters for the combined purposes. President Grant is now preparing a petition for the submission of a two mill tax for the soldiers' memorial.

Keep the People Happy.

What has been accomplished thru the benefactions of Mr. and Mrs. Griswold and what is in contemplation and the ultimate results is well illustrated in the motto of a new altruistic organization called Community Service Inc. "Take care of a man's leisure and you take care of the man." This organization has shown success in its primary aim of substituting enjoyment for idleness, loneliness and unrest during idle hours. Its work is being spread all over the country as rapidly as organizations can be effected, had its inspiration from just such works as have been inaugurated by Mr. and Mrs. Seth N. Griswold for community betterment. One citizen, in writing on the subject, recently said: "I sincerely hope that the City of White Hall will in time show even more appreciation of her (Mrs. Griswold's) splendid work than has been shown in the past."

A leading citizen who is sojourning in California writes back as follows: "Too much appreciation can not be shown Mr. and Mrs. Griswold, as they are very generous, and did the finest ever done for White Hall in the way of a public benefaction. I personally know of many other fine acts they have done, and I fully appreciate their kindness and generosity, and wish to honor them for it."

Attorney H. D. Hamilton of New York, a White Hall boy, writes in like manner, saying: "I am much interested in what is being done by the interested people in White Hall, especially Mr. and Mrs. Griswold. They are certainly entitled to the gratitude of every one who cares for the good old town, and I hope that White Hall people generally will show proper appreciation. I hope, too, that the public-spirited example of the Griswolds will inspire others to do what they can to support the library enterprise, which means so much to the White Hall people of the future. I don't care to go into my plans more in detail at the present time, but can only say that it has never been wholly absent from my mind to do my bit in that direction at some time."

John R. Stanton, of Chicago, was here during the holidays, having just returned from Europe in the interest of the publishing house of which he is president, and was impressed with the present dimensions of the park. The Baile site between the Stocks hotel and the Bridgewater building should by all means, he says, be acquired for a main street entrance and it would also afford a good location for the proposed public rest room. The rest room, he says, is something that is needed badly by White Hall, and that he is surprised something as a memorial to the White Hall soldier boys in the recent war had not been started. The idea of combining the rest room, soldiers' memorial and the library he regards as a capital one, and he says there are several former White Hall boys who would be glad to contribute to it. He says he will give $100 in cash or the equivalent in books for the library if it is given quarters in this new building, and that Judge Purdy, Louis Amos, General Hamilton, Tip Browne, Senator Lane and other old White Hall boys who have fared well in the world, will do as much or more. The subject interests him deeply, and with outside help he thinks the community building proposition can be handled.

Illinois Life Past Goal of $100,000,000

To the Illinois Life Insurance company of Chicago goes the honor and distinction of being the first legal reserve life insurance company organized and operating under the laws of Illinois to cross the $100,000,000 mark of insurance in force.

In every department of its business the Illinois Life, which was organized in 1893, has shown substantial gains during each and every year of its history—a record of achievement which stands almost alone in life insurance annals. On Dec. 31, 1918, of the 212 American legal reserve life insurance companies only thirty-two had $100,000,000 or more of insurance in force, and while it is probable that certain other companies crossed the line in 1919, yet there is every reason to believe, those who know say, that when the final figures are published the Illinois Life will be found among the first thirty-five of the greatest American companies.

Especially will this be true if assets and surplus are reckoned with, since one of the most commendable features of the Illinois Life's great record is the fact that its business has been built up by slow and consistent growth. Reserves, assets and surplus have kept equal pace with the increase in insurance outstanding. Its leaders say, with the result that a proper conservative balance has always been maintained between the newly acquired business on which the reserves are small and the old, well-seasoned business on which the reserves are large.

In round figures, the admitted assets of the Illinois Life, as of Dec. 31, 1919, will be $17,000,000, with capital and surplus of $1,500,000.
